Trip Mazer

The Mazer prompt sheet

How to get great answers from your AI travel companion

Start with the five essentials

Where	When	Who	Budget	From
Bali, or "somewhere warm"	Exact dates if you have them	How many, any kids	A total for the trip	Defaults to your home city

Try Plan 5 days in Bali from Bengaluru, 12–16 December, for two of us. Relaxed pace, budget around ₹1.5 lakh total.

Phrases that do things

"Save it"	Creates the trip and copies the plan into its itinerary
"Plan the whole trip"	Flights, stays, things to do and every day
"What's on today?"	Today's plan for the trip you're on
"Lighten the rest of today"	Eases a tired day; nothing changes until you tap
"Tuk tuk 800 LKR"	Logs an expense, shows today's balance
"Send my itinerary to Mum"	A ready-to-send message with a link
"Keep Mum posted"	Flight updates for family (Elite)
"Save this as a routine"	Reuse what you just did with one phrase
"How does this work?"	Your next step, and a replay of the tour

Six habits that help

1. Ask for the action. "Add Tanah Lot to day 3", not "what about Tanah Lot?"
2. Correct in small steps. "Cheaper hotels." "Make day 3 quieter."
3. Say hard limits. "Under ₹8,000 a night", "free cancellation".
4. Name the trip when you have more than one.
5. Send, don't type: links, photos, receipts, PDFs, voice notes, location.
6. Ask for the format: a table, a checklist, an Excel or calendar file.

Mazer asks before anything that books, pays, sends or deletes, and payment always happens in TripMazer's checkout.
